Course Summary

This introductory qualification is designed for learners to develop kitchen skills and health and safety awareness. To develop knife skills and preparation methods, the use of everyday ingredients and developing knowledge of how to use them. Each week you will undergo a placement at Cottingley community centre as a group running the café and kitchen. We will travel as a group on public transport. During the year you will learn transferable and sector specific skills which will enhance your progression for future learning. Please note that a uniform may be required for this course, click here to purchase.

What You Will Learn

Each week you will prepare and cook dishes which have been demonstrated to you. You will be shown how to put ingredients together. You will be working in a professional kitchen using equipment and developing your individual skills for progression. You will have the opportunity for a weekly placement developing and learning new skills. These will include customer service, team work, money skills. Trips and visits and guest speakers to help enrich your learning experience. The course is based on a Programme of Study which consists of:

- The vocational option itself
- A City & Guilds Employability Award
- Maths and English
- A Tutorial Programme
- Work Experience

Learners will study three core Employability units along side developing skills for catering and hospitality.

Modules

Each learner will work towards 3 PSD units:

- Basic Cookery Skills
- Understanding Commodities
- Cooking Methods

Entry Requirements

There are no entry requirements for this level apart from an interest in the specified subject and the ability to commit to positive behaviours and attendance.
