Course Summary

Begin your journey into the world of media with our UAL Level 2 Diploma in Creative Media Production & Technology.

This course is perfect for anyone interested in film, TV, radio, or digital content creation. You'll learn the essential creative and technical skills needed to produce professional media projects while building confidence and a strong foundation for further study.

As part of Bradford College's Producing Academy, you'll work in industry-standard studios, collaborate on exciting projects, and start building your portfolio.

What You Will Learn

Explore the fundamentals of media production through hands-on projects. Learn camera and lighting techniques for film and TV, experiment with sound recording and editing, and develop skills in post-production using professional software.

Alongside practical work, you'll research audiences and industry trends to inform your creative decisions. Expect to create a range of media products- from short films and documentaries to podcasts and online content- while building an online portfolio that showcases your progress.
